

Prototype bionic hand (to be used to pour, drink water)

A functional bionic hand prototype designed for simple tasks like pouring and drinking, completed as part of DESN1000 - design and engineering at UNSW.

Skills

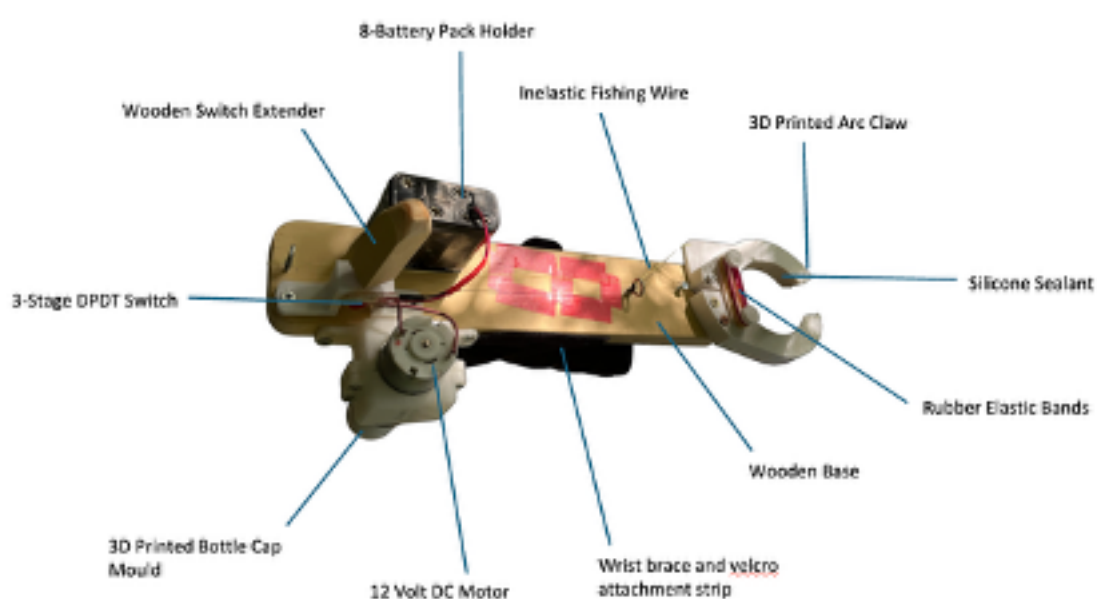

Mechanical design and prototyping

3D printing and assembly

Iterative testing and optimisation

Teamwork in challenging environment

Finished product images

Process/Production images

First Prototype:

